

Oral History Interviews with Trinidad Residents, 2018: Primary Source Set

Interview with Jennie Garduno, 2018	Interview with Jesse Manzanares, 2018	Interview with Samantha Quintana and Shantell Quintana, 2018
Jennie Garduno is a retired nurse and former Mayor of Trinidad	Jesse Manzanares is an attorney and former Colorado District Court judge	Both Samantha and Shantell Quintana are business owners in Trinidad

The interview was held on August 27, 2018 at the Community Center in Trinidad. The interviewers were Yolanda Romero of the Southern Colorado Coal Miner’s Museum and Marjorie McIntosh of the Latino History Project; the videographer was Tori Tarin.	The interview was held on August 27, 2018 at the Community Center in Trinidad. The interviewers were Yolanda Romero of the Southern Colorado Coal Miner’s Museum and Marjorie McIntosh of the Latino History Project; the videographer was Tori Tarin.	The interview was held on August 27, 2018 at the Southern Colorado Coal Miner’s Museum in Trinidad. The interviewers were Yolanda Romero of the Southern Colorado Coal Miner’s Museum and Marjorie McIntosh of the Latino History Project; the videographer was Tori Tarin.
Link to interview	Link to interview	Link to interview

Oral History Interviews with Trinidad Residents, 2018

Interview with Yolanda Romero and Jack and Georganne Vallejos, 2018	Interview with Tom Hays, Jerry Renner, and Mike Romero, 2018	Questions asked at the Oral History Interviews in Trinidad, 2018
Yolanda Romero (at left) is a community activist and Director of the Southern Colorado Coal Miner’s Museum; Jack and Georganne Vallejos (middle and right) are community organizers	All three men are retired coal miners; Jerry Renner (at left) and Mike Romero (center) are former union officers in the United Mine Workers of America	These questions were asked at most of the interviews. The one with the retired coal miners followed a somewhat different course.

The interview was held on August 27, 2018 at the Southern Colorado Coal Miner’s Mueum in Trinidad. The interviewer was Marjorie McIntosh of the Latino History Project; the videographer was Tori Tarin.	The interview was held on August 27, 2018 at the Southern Colorado Coal Miner’s Museum in Trinidad. The interviewers were Yolanda Romero of the Southern Colorado Coal Miner’s Museum and Marjorie McIntosh of the Latino History Project; the videographer was Tori Tarin.	The interviews were held on August 27, 2018 at the Community Center and the Southern Colorado Coal Miner’s Museum in Trinidad. The interviewers were Yolanda Romero of the Southern Colorado Coal Miner’s Museum and Marjorie McIntosh of the Latino History Project; the videographer was Tori Tarin.
Link to interview	Link to interview	Link to interview